

PRIVATE AND PRESS REPORTS CURRENT PT. ARTHUR FALLEN

No Official Confirmation of the Eastern Bulletins

Japanese Insist Upon the Humane Treatment of Prisoners

Gen Gripenberg Distinguished Commander is Dead.

Messenger from Stossel Sent to Japanese Headquarters—Review of the Siege of Port Arthur—War News of the Day.

Rome, Nov. 11.—(Bulletin)—The Tokyo correspondent of the newspaper Messaggero wires that reports have reached there that Port Arthur has capitulated.

London, Nov. 11.—Several reports from private and press sources are current today that Port Arthur has fallen. No official confirmation has been received and Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, says he has received no intimation of such an event. A dispatch from Berlin, quotes the Lokal Anzeiger as containing a similar report. The paper says General Stossel will leave the port today. The paper adds that General Nogi, the Japanese commander, has been notified by the home government that he will be held responsible for the humane treatment of the surrendering Russians. This intimation has been sent him as a result of the reports that the Japanese troops were bitter because of the alleged killing of Japanese wounded by the Russians and that the surrender of the port would be a signal for the wholesale massacre of Russians in revenge for their inhuman treatment of the Japanese.

Rome, November 11.—The Agenzia Libera has a dispatch from Chefoo today stating that a messenger from General Stossel, in command of the Russian force at Port Arthur, arrived at Japanese headquarters. It is believed his purpose is to ascertain what conditions the Japanese would impose should the Russians surrender of the Port.

The reports of the fall of Port Arthur today, while officially unconfirmed are believed to presage what is about to happen if it is not yet actually a fact.

The siege of Port Arthur began with the second day of the Russo-Japanese war and in it the historian will find a history of brilliant achievements on one side and equally brilliant defense on the other. Here it was that Admiral Togo by his dashing aggressiveness, won a place for himself among the naval heroes of the world. His work to his country was invaluable. He so weakened Russia's naval power in the far East that Japan was able to transport troops and munitions to Korea and Manchuria, across the Japanese straits, practically from the beginning of the war. This open line of communication established by Togo enabled the Japanese to score so brilliantly against the Russians in the many land battles that have since occurred. Generals Oku and Nogi are the men who have hammered at the gates of Port Arthur energetically and unceasingly until now Nogi practically has the prize in his grasp.

For Russia the so-called eastern Gibraltar has proven the grave of many an illustrious leader and fighter, and has proven an equally deep grave for the reputation of other leaders heretofore considered incomparable. Then, too, ill-luck has taken a prominent hand in Russian losses which made the subjugation of the fortress a possibility. No less than half a dozen of the Czar's vessels have been lost as the result of striking mines laid in the harbor by Japanese, and in a couple of instances by the Russians themselves.

The first instance in the long line of occurrences which mark the history of the siege of the Port was the night torpedo attack on the Russian vessels by the Japanese on Feb. 10. In this fight, if it may be termed a fight, the Russian battleships Retvizan, Czarewitsch, Poltava and the cruisers Pallada, Doyarin, Novik Diana and Askold were all damaged, but the three first mentioned so seriously that they had to be beached to prevent them from sinking. The Japanese suffered damages to three torpedo boats.

Following quickly on this reverse to the Russians came the sinking of the torpedo transport Yenesei in Port Arthur harbor. She was laying mines to prevent the Japanese from entering the harbor and struck one of her own mines, being destroyed and sunk. A few days later, on Feb. 16, the Russian cruiser Boyarin suffered a like fate, striking one of the mines which were not mapped out.

On February 22 the Japanese fleet began its series of bombardments of the harbor defenses. Their number cannot be given for the reason that they have been so numerous that even official records do not contain them.

On Feb. 26 an attempt was made by the Japanese to land marines to the rear of the Port, but the Russian land forces were watching for such an event and the Mikado's men were met with a terrific fire and had to abandon the attempt. The Japanese fleet then settled down to the long siege before them, their main efforts seeming to be to prevent the Russian vessels from escaping from their bottled up station. To this end ships were sent into the channel on March 7 and at frequent intervals thereafter the effort was repeated, in each case some little space being closed, but in no case the whole channel. Then came a breathing spell, in which each side took a second wind. On March 30 Admiral Makarov, probably thinking that by their long silence the Japanese fleet manifested a disinclination to force matters, began a series of sorties from the harbor, on each occasion going further from anchorages than before. He made one sortie too many, however, and on April 12, his flagship the Petropavlovsk, blown to atoms, the admiral himself being numbered among those whose lives paid the price of his foolhardiness. As to the cause of the explosion there has never been an agreement. Admiral Togo says the Petropavlovsk

WIFE SUICIDES AT WORD OF REPROOF HUSBAND USES SAME GUN ON HIMSELF

New York, Nov. 11.—Because her husband had reproved her, Mrs. Catherine Green is dead at her own hands in Brooklyn, while her husband is in a hospital, dangerously wounded, having shot himself when he saw the result of his word with his wife. George Green had criticised his wife for go-was blown up by a Russian torpedo, while the Russian commanders assert it was a Russian mine which destroyed her. Be the reason what it may, the vessel was destroyed. Grand Duke Cyril, then a likely heir to Russian throne, barely escaped with his life by swimming ashore in a desperately wounded condition.

The next event of primal importance was the landing of Japanese troops at Pitsewo on May 5 which marked the beginning of the end, though the latter was still a long way off. On the morning of that date a number of Japanese transports guarded by warships sailed along the coast of Loai Tung peninsula until Pitsewo was reached, each under protection of a heavy fire, boat load after boat load of soldiers was landed, and Port Arthur effectually cut off by land. Reinforcements were quickly added, the main batch going ashore at Kai Chow on May 17. Here again Japanese warships guarded the coast while the disembarkation was in progress. The march of this force was begun to the south and a combination with those previously landed effected. On May 22 this combined force under General Oku made a brilliant attack on Nanshan Hill, occupying the position after a fight lasting two days, in which appalling sacrifices of life were made.

Shortly after this, Oku with a portion of the force, marched to the north and it was thought for a time that the assault on Port Arthur was to be postponed. This however, was not in the minds of the Japanese officials, for on June 3, the force remaining in the neighborhood having been reinforced by further landings, made an attack on Kwang Tung Heights, the first line of outer forts, and captured the positions. The Japanese in the meantime had occupied Dahn and were now in an excellent position to force the combination when they so desired. Little by little the lines about the fortress were drawn closer, each point gained meaning the loss of many valuable lives and the expenditure of enormous amounts of ammunition. The advance continued until on August 21, the Japanese had forces had reached and occupied Antechan fort and the parade ground, on the immediate outskirts of the inner fortress and the final demolition of the enemy's work began. At that time it looked as though a day or so would tell the tale of the Japanese objective gained. There was however, the indomitable courage of General Stossel and his heroic Russian troops to be taken into consideration, and now two months have passed without the subjugation of the Port becoming a reality. Since the middle of September, assault after assault has been delivered against the fortress. A Japanese success would be scored only to be followed by an attack by the Russians. Lilliant in the extreme, which would dislodge the Japanese from the position they had taken. This continued until a fortnight ago, when the entire Japanese force was concentrated against the ridge of hills marking the eastern and northeastern boundaries of the fortress. Hill after hill was taken by General Nogi's men, until today the little garrison of Port Arthur is said to have been worn down to the point where nothing remains but surrender.

The courage displayed by General Stossel and his men has been of the highest order. With little food with sickness laying many of them low, with improper sanitary arrangements and driven to the point of desperation they have yet rallied about their leader and the flag of the Czar and in the face of overwhelming odds have thrown back the repeated attacks of the island fighters.

The feet in the meantime, had not been idle. Bombardments had been continued, each inflicting some damage on the Russian defending force. The Russian vessels, too, had made several sorties, accompanied by the usual hard luck, as it was termed. The gun boat Glyuk on June 6 struck a torpedo and sunk and several other vessels had narrow escapes. The Japanese, too, had suffered, the cruiser Yoshina having been rammed by another Japanese vessel and the cruiser Itsukushima damaged by striking a mine. The battleship Yoshima also struck a mine and sank.

On August 10 the Russian fleet passed out of practical efficiency in dramatic fashion. A sortie was made from the Port with the flagship Czarewitsch leading. It was an amicable failure, for Japanese searchlights soon disclosed the attempt and a terrific sea fight followed. The Czarewitsch and a torpedo boat in a sinking condition accompanied by the cruiser Novik, made for Tsing Tau in Kiao Chow bay. Admiral Wittgert, commanding the Czarewitsch, was killed and a number of his officers wounded. Subsequently the Czarewitsch and torpedo boat dismantled and will remain in the German port until the end of hostilities. The Novik left within 24 hours only to be met by Japanese vessels off Saghalien and sunk. The cruiser Diana escaped. The cruiser Askold with a torpedo boat took refuge at Shanghai, where they have since dismantled, and the torpedo destroyer Reschitnei made for Chefoo, where she too dismantled. This boat was later captured by the Japanese who entered the harbor at Chefoo and seized her.

The remainder of the fleet composed of the battleships Peresviet, Polieda, Retvizan, Sevastopol and Poltava and seven torpedo boats, returned to the harbor.

STILL HIGHER GOES PLURALITY IN BUCKEYEDOM

Republican Plurality in Ohio Exceeds 250,000.

Democratic Chairman Garber Expresses Views on the Result of the Ohio Vote.

Columbus, O., Nov. 11.—Faced upon complete unofficial returns from every county in the state Chairman Dick, today, figured Roosevelt's plurality in Ohio at 250,837. The official figures will not vary greatly, if at all, from this estimate.

Columbus, Nov. 11.—In reply to Chairman Dick's message regarding the election results in Ohio, President Roosevelt wired: "The news is wonderful. I want to thank you, not only for your congratulations, but for all the work you have done." Senator Foraker wired: "Heartiest congratulations upon our unprecedented victory, and to you for your conspicuous part in it."

President Roosevelt's plurality in Ohio is 250,837. As fast as later returns were heard the Republican plurality jumped higher, until the 250,000 mark was reached and passed. Of the 33 states which Roosevelt carried Ohio is second in the size of its plurality. It is outdistanced by Pennsylvania alone, while Illinois is third and New York fourth.

Belated returns placed in the Republican column the Democratic counties of Coshocton and Sandusky, while Wyandot, which was thought to have been captured, slipped back into the Democratic column. The counties stand 71 Republican, 17 Democratic. Late returns make no change in the congressional delegation, and State Chairman Harvey C. Garber, representing the Fourth district, is the solitary Democratic member from Ohio. The Socialist vote is expected to reach large proportions, though it is confined to the cities. In Cincinnati Debs has one-third as many votes as Parker.

Chairman Garber of the Democratic state committee issued a statement on the result, saying: "Nothing which the opposition in the present regime of Republicans could do in the way of appealing to the American people along the lines of principle and constitutional government was effective as against abundant crops and an unceasing foreign demand, with a continuous supply of money for seven consecutive years, no parallel of which can be found. This, then, is Providential, and can not nor will it be accredited to any legislation or direction of public affairs. That Roosevelt was voted for by a considerable number of Democrats in every county is admitted, but when the stay-at-home vote is deducted it will be found that the Republican majority for Roosevelt would be under 60,000 and Laylin under 40,000."

Claims Tammany Was Loyal.
New York, Nov. 11.—Governor Odell, chairman of the Republican state committee, and Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, expressed themselves on the election results, each finding cause for gratification. Governor Odell was pleased over the general result, and particularly over the election of Higgins, while Mr. Murphy said that in view of the general results his organization had done better than any other part of the country. Governor Odell said: "It is only to be expected that the candidate for governor should run behind the national ticket, and while Mr. Roosevelt's lead was larger than I expected, because his vote was larger, I don't think it is exactly right to say that he pulled Higgins through." Mr. Murphy said: "There was absolutely no disaffection in Tammany. Bryan received about 25,000 in the two boroughs, whereas Parker gets more than 35,000. This is better than other parts of the country, and shows that there was absolutely no knifing of the national ticket."

Alva Adams' Plurality.
Denver, Colo., Nov. 11.—Governor James H. Peabody (Rep.) conceded his defeat. Alva Adams' majority over Peabody in the city and county of Denver is 5,000, and in the entire state about 10,000. Republicans claim a majority for Peabody in the state outside of Denver, but this is not borne out by the returns, which are still incomplete. Peabody was beaten by 750 plurality in his home (Fremont) county, though it was carried by Roosevelt by 9. The Republicans will probably lose all the other state offices, though in some cases their pluralities are small. John F. Shafer (Dem.) apparently elected congressman-at-large with a plurality of 2,000.

Vote in Maryland.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 11.—The official returns received here indicate that the vote for the presidential candidates last Tuesday was very close—possibly 100 on either side. It is probable that Secretary of State Oswald Tilghman will be called upon to decide which of the electors will be entitled to cast the votes in Washington. The board of canvassers in Baltimore city and in the 23 counties of the state are in session. In Baltimore city the votes cast in the Third congressional district were counted, but the totals were not made public. While Congressman Frank Wachter was admittedly re-elected, the vote on the presidential ticket is left in doubt.

Contest in Colorado.
Denver, Colo., Nov. 11.—At a meeting of Republican candidates and party leaders it was decided to immediately begin a contest for the places of all the Democrats who had been elected in Colorado on the face of the returns. An effort will be made to seat all Republicans from governor down. The matter will be carried into the courts on the claim that the successful Democrats were elected by glaring frauds in Denver, and a number of affidavits in support of the charges of fraud have been filed at Republican headquarters by the Republican workers and judges.

Result in West Virginia.
Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 11.—The official returns for West Virginia are not yet in, but from the returns received Roosevelt's plurality in the state is placed at from 25,000 to 30,000. The Republican state committee claims the election of W. M. O. Dawson (Rep.) for governor by a plurality of over 9,000. The Democratic state committee concedes his election by about 5,000. The legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican in both branches, the Democrats only having six out of 30 senators.

Districts in Dispute.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11.—Complete unofficial returns from the Ninth district give John M. Bennett (Rep.) a plurality of 68 over James N. Kehoe. Democratic incumbent, in the race for congress. The Republican managers in Louisville are still claiming that Judge W. H. Jones (Rep.) has defeated James Richardson for congress in the Third district, but unofficial returns indicate the latter's election by a small plurality.

Latest From Missouri.
St. Louis, Nov. 11.—With a few counties still to be heard from the returns showed that Roosevelt's plurality in Missouri stood 15,755. Of the seven counties unheard from six went for Bryan in 1900. They are remote and sparsely settled. With the returns from nine counties missing at the same time Folk's (Dem.) plurality for governor stood 34,883. The legislature is Republican.

Parker to Practice Law.
New York, Nov. 11.—Judge Parker came to this city from Esopus. He is quoted as saying to friends on the train: "Of course I am going to return to the law business. I have several engagements under consideration, but I have made no decision yet. It may be that I shall first take a holiday trip, not for myself, for I don't feel the need of any, but for the benefit of Mrs. Parker."

Claim Babcock's Election.
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 11.—Frank R. Wankley of the Stalwart Republican faction stated that the returns received by him from every precinct in the Third congressional district show that Congressman Joseph W. Babcock is re-elected beyond the shadow of a doubt, and that his plurality is 281. The result of the official count will probably not be known for several days.

Fusionists Defeated.
Omaha, Neb., Nov. 11.—Fusion leaders concede the re-election of Governor Mickey by a plurality which will probably reach from 7,000 to 8,000. The late returns increased his gains in a material way and left no doubt of his receiving a substantial plurality. The legislature is solidly Republican.

Pennsylvania's Plurality.
Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Complete figures received from every county in the state show that President Roosevelt's plurality in Pennsylvania has reached 491,225, probably the largest plurality ever given a presidential candidate by any state in the political history of the country.

Cleveland Goes Hunting.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 11.—Former President Grover Cleveland went on his first hunting trip of the season. In company with Dr. Carlton Priest and W. B. McFarland he drove to Rocky Hill. The shooting was good and the party returned with 16 quail and seven rabbits.

Demands a Recount.
Cleveland, Nov. 11.—J. V. McGorray, Democratic candidate for sheriff, who came within 1,256 votes of being elected, has asked the board of elections for a recount. He thinks he has been beaten out of the office by an error.

Arizona Delegate.
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 11.—Mark Smith, Democratic candidate for delegate in congress, will have a plurality exceeding 700.

Women Want to Vote.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 11.—The Kansas Female Suffrage association Thursday asked the incoming legislature to submit an amendment to the constitution permitting women to vote for President.

Drowned in a Bucket.
Versailles, O., Nov. 11.—The fifteen months old babe of August Parga, was drowned by falling headlong into a bucket of water.

ALL PEACE TALK IS IDLE SAYS COUNT CASSINI

Russians Will Brook No Mediation Now.

The Czar Expects the Neutral Nations to Respect His Wishes in the Matter.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Emphatically, but with all courtesy, Russia, through her ambassadors abroad, has several times informed the neutral powers that she will brook no mediation at this time in her war with Japan. It can be announced that Russia expects her wishes will be respected by all the powers to which she has communicated her views. Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, said: "I can announce that I have very good reason to believe that my government's emphatic opposition to any mediation at this time will be respected and observed by all neutral powers."

Of the suggestions made in Great Britain that the United States take the lead in a move for intervention, the ambassador hesitated to repeat what he has announced so many times, that he has positive assurance that this government, while at all times ready to offer its services, has not the slightest intention to take a step toward mediation unless invited by both belligerents. The Russian government is fully aware of the views of this government on the subject, and it is deemed unnecessary at the Russian embassy here again to announce that it is confident this attitude will be strictly adhered to.

Lansdowne's Suggestion Unpopular.
St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—In official circles Lord Lansdowne's veiled suggestion that the Russo-Japanese conflict might be settled by arbitration finds an unfavorable echo. The sentiment prevails stronger than ever that Russia's prestige must be vindicated before the idea of peace can be entertained. The mere fact that the suggestion comes from Great Britain's foreign secretary does not tend to its kindly reception here. The firm conviction is expressed that Lord Lansdowne's suggestion could not have been the result of an understanding between the British and French governments, it being stated that the Russian view of the situation is too well known to her ally to make it possible that she could have been privy to such a move. The general opinion is that Lord Lansdowne's suggestion was in the nature of a personal trial balloon.

At the Front.
Huansian (10 miles south of Mukden), Nov. 11.—Along the 80 miles constituting the front of the Russian army everything is quiet except for occasional skirmishes and artillery duels on the center and left, where gunners fire occasionally for the sake of practice, so as to have the range should the Japanese take the offensive. Sometimes outposts indulge in fusillades. The Japanese are industriously continuing work under the cover of darkness, digging immense trenches, into which to deflect the water of the Shakhe river.

Russians Repulsed.
London, Nov. 11.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent with General Oku cables under date of Nov. 9: "Last night the Russians made several determined attacks upon Lamun-ting and Shingching, but were repulsed with heavy losses. The artillery laid the villages in ruins."

Japan's Proposal Rejected.
London, Nov. 11.—Japan officially made representations to Russia looking to peace. This action resulted in failure, and such representations, even privately, are not likely to be repeated by Japan. The proposition was put forward tentatively and unofficially so that the Japanese government would be in a position to deny any report that it was suing for peace.

OVER A MILLION
FOR MISSION WORK.
Boston, Nov. 11.—The general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church, after considerable discussion voted unanimously to appropriate $1,225,000 for missionary work during the coming year, and this sum to be so divided as to give $701,500 for work in the foreign field, and $523,500 for domestic work. The question of the appointment of the money for foreign missions among the various countries was deferred until today.

WOMAN CUTS THROAT AND HANGS; BOY BLOWS OFF HEAD WITH SHOTGUN

Woonsocket, R. I., Nov. 11.—Despondent because of ill health, Mrs. Nannie Franks, 56, of Fredericksburg, Wayne county yesterday afternoon slashed her throat with a razor, and made sure of death by hanging herself to a rafter in the house.

A DUAL MURDER FOLLOWS FIGHT WITH OFFICERS

Brother of a Victim is on a Rampage.

Shoots and Kills Sheriff of Fayette County, W. Va., Murders Another and Escapes.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 11.—Fayette county is excited as never before over a double murder, following the killing of Constable W. A. Jackson by Policeman Will Elliott of Montgomery. In a quarrel between the two officers Jackson was shot and killed. Harvey Jackson, a brother of W. A. Jackson, and two other brothers armed themselves and started out to "clean up" the entire police force of the town, which is a small hamlet near Fayette. A telephone message was sent to Sheriff Daniels of Fayette county to come to Montgomery at once, as bloodshed was certain. Just as Daniels stepped from the train he saw Harvey Jackson lounging near the station. Without drawing his revolver the sheriff walked over to Jackson and, placing his hand on Jackson's shoulder, told him to leave town under penalty of being arrested. Jackson without a word fired twice point blank at the sheriff. The sheriff dropped to the ground, dying instantly. John Rolf, a prominent citizen of the town, witnessed the talk between Daniels and Jackson. Throwing up his hands he advanced toward Jackson to remonstrate with him and to help Daniels. Jackson turned and shot Rolf dead. Then, reloading his revolver and drawing another from his pocket, he defied any one to take him. The other Jackson boys came into town and for half an hour the three paraded the streets, firing revolvers and defying the town. The streets were deserted and not an official dared to make his appearance.

In the meantime Detective Harrison Ash, reputed to be the gamest man in West Virginia, and who lives near Montgomery, was telephoned for. He was seen coming down the roadway from Montgomery by the Jacksons, and they started on a run for the mountain base near by and escaped in the woods. After Ash had driven the murderers to the mountains the citizens plucked up courage and swarmed into the streets, heavily armed. A posse of 200 men was quickly organized, and under the leadership of Ash and other police they started beating the woods for the Jacksons.

PRESIDENT

Will Attend the World's Fair on Nov. 26—So Promises the St. Louis Committee.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt has promised to attend the Louisiana Purchase exposition on Saturday, Nov. 26. He made this promise to a committee from St. Louis headed by Mayor Wells, who came to Washington especially for the purpose of inviting him to visit the fair. The president may remain in St. Louis until the night of Sunday, Nov. 27. President Roosevelt has been anxious to go to St. Louis to see the fair ever since its opening. However, the presidential campaign impelled him to remain in the east, and in August he so informed William H. Thompson, treasurer of the exposition.

STRIKE

Has Been Averted by an Agreement Between the Paper Workers and the Company.

New York, Nov. 11.—A strike which threatened to affect the mills of the International Paper company, in various parts of the east, has been averted by an agreement which was reached between representatives of the paper workers and the company in this city. The trouble directly settled by agreement was that at Berlin, N. H., where the company's employees were on strike, but many other mills were indirectly affected, inasmuch as decided action in sympathy with the Berlin strikers had been threatened in other quarters.

MR. BROWNFIELD

Writes a Ringing and Loyal Card to the Democracy of Licking County.

I desire, through the columns of your paper, to return my heartfelt thanks to the gallant Democracy of Licking county for the splendid support they gave me, at the late election. Although I went down to defeat, with the entire county ticket, yet we all have the consolation of knowing that there was nothing personal in that defeat; there was no treachery to any one part of the ticket, for we all shared the same fate. Indeed, the county ticket ran far ahead of the head of the ticket.

In this hour of defeat, I want to say that, if possible, I am a better Democrat than ever, and I appreciate the loyalty and devotion of my friends better than ever. The best thing I can ask of all my friends—or perhaps, I should say, the thing by which they can please me best—is to stand by the old Democratic party, even more loyally in the future than in the past. The candidates on the Licking county Democratic ticket, in common with those all over the whole country, went down to defeat, not because the people wanted to defeat them; but, because of alleged "prosperity," the people were afraid to make a change in national affairs and so the county tickets were sacrificed with the national ticket. But, the Democratic party will rise again, in Licking county and all over the country. It is the party of the people and you cannot down it, permanently. Let us all work and hope for the future! Meanwhile, I shall continue to do business at the old stand—all over the county—and vote the Democratic ticket.

Sincerely,
JOSEPH E. BROWNFIELD.

ADDICKS' FRIEND

Have Deserted Him and Will Help Elect Colonel Dupont as Senator, It Is Asserted.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 11.—Word was received in this city last night by friends of John Edward Addicks, the unsuccessful aspirant for a United States senatorship from the state of Delaware, that he has been thrown overboard by United States Senator J. Frank Allen and Secretary of State Caleb B. Layton, of that commonwealth, his erstwhile lieutenants, and that Col. Henry A. Dupont, of Wilmington, the powder magnate and head of the anti-Addicks Republicans and pronounced enemy of Addicks, will be elected to the office which the latter has fought for so long.

Under an agreement arrived at in Wilmington last Saturday, it is said, the 22 Union Republican members of the next Legislature from Kent and Sussex counties will join with the nine regular Republican legislators from Newcastle county, when the General Assembly shall choose a United States Senator to succeed Dr. J. H. Keiser Ball in January at Dover, and elect Colonel Dupont to the full term of six years. The regular Republican leaders furnished the money which carried Delaware for the Republicans and they will now get their reward.

ELEPHANTS

Escaped From the Barn and Ran Amuck Through City and Country in Indiana.

Peru Ind., Nov. 11.—Five elephants, belonging to Colonel Benjamin F. Wallace's circus, created intense excitement in the rural districts surrounding their winter quarters yesterday. The show arrived home and was being put away for the winter. Two elephants, used for moving wagons, pursued a negro about the quarters, and their trumpeting gained the attention of three other elephants in the barn. The five elephants, after the negro had found refuge in a brick building, tore down the road, frightening horses and chasing farmers up the trees. The beasts crossed the Mississippi river, pursued by 15 workmen. The latter were deluged with water thrown from their trunks. Then the elephants made their way into a settlement of Miami Indians.

The aborigines, armed with tomahawks, prepared to defend their families, but the herd shied to the east into the town of Peoria, where Jonathan Jones was having a public sale. Scores of frantic people rushed up the steep hill and escaped through the fields, while others hastened to the school houses. Finally the circus workmen arrived, and the elephants, being exhausted, were brought into subjection. The herd went through wire fences as if they were made of thread, and rail fences went down like so much paper.

REPUBLICANS

Of Wooster, Start a Boom for Smyser For Governor Three Years Hence. His Vote.

Wooster, O., Nov. 11.—Republicans of this city are so overjoyed because of the election of their townsman, Judge Martin Luther Smyser, to Congress from the Seventeenth district, that they have started to boom him for governor of Ohio in 1907.
Millerstown.—The official vote of Holmes county shows Parker received 2,480 votes, Roosevelt 1,782, Huns for Congress, 2,482, Smyser 1,329. Smyser, Rep., for Congress, carries the district by 1,700.

OLD AGE BROUGHT TO INFIRMITIES

To "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

Oliver Wendell Holmes after eighty years of life had rolled over his head, declared that he was "eighty years young." So many every man and woman in Newark, said Druggist Frank D. Hall, "if they will take proper care of themselves, keep built up and their bodily tissues from wasting." "I wish I could persuade every person in this vicinity who 'feels old,' whether they are so in years or not, to take our splendid cod liver oil preparation, Vinol. It is by far the greatest tissue builder and invigorant in the world for old people. Vinol is not a patent medicine, but simply contains the body-building, strength-creating properties of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, and we guarantee that it will repair worn tissues, check the natural decline and replace weakness with strength.

"There are hundreds of old people in this vicinity who need just such a strength-maker and tissue-builder as Vinol. Their blood is thin and sluggish, but we guarantee that Vinol will enrich and quicken the blood and build up the system. It contains no whiskey or strong stimulants, which have a bad after effect and weaken and break down, and we therefore wish every person who 'feels old' in this vicinity would try Vinol on our guarantee to return their money if they are not satisfied." Mob Foiled.

Benton, Ark., Nov. 11.—A message to the sheriff of Saline county from the sheriff of Jefferson county prevented a lynching in Benton. When Sheriff Kelly was advised by wire that a mob had started from Pine Bluff by rail for Benton to lynch Houston Hooker, a negro, who was in jail here for killing Conductor P. D. Atwood, that official quietly removed Hooker from the jail to a place of safety. The train arrived from Pine Bluff and the occupants tried to find Hooker. They were unsuccessful, and returned to Pine Bluff disappointed. It is not generally known where Sheriff Kelley placed the prisoner.

Killed His Boarder.

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 11.—Frederick Easton, a horse dealer, shot and killed Lorenzo Kline at the home of the former, where Kline was a boarder. Easton claimed that he found Kline and his wife together in Kline's room. Kline had complained of being ill. Mrs. Easton, who was asleep when her husband entered the room, was aroused by the report of the pistol, jumped up and ran from the room. Easton did not attempt to attack his wife and made no remark to her.

Judge Parker a Beneficiary.

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Judge Parker, his wife and his daughter, Mrs. Hall, are named as beneficiaries in the will of Mrs. Margaret Hess, which was filed for probate in the surrogate's court here. Mrs. Hess, who was a prominent social leader, named 120 beneficiaries in her will, most of whom received articles which she prized highly. Judge Parker received a valuable decanter and set of wine glasses once owned by her father, the late Judge William Cockburn.

American Must Die.

City of Mexico, Nov. 11.—The legislature of the state of Oaxaca has approved the report of the commission of justice denying the right of commutation from capital punishment to John Madden, an American, who killed Dr. Richard D. King while the latter was alighting from a train at Oaxaca. The killing excited indignation in the English-speaking colony of Oaxaca.

GAS FIELD

AS IT WAS SEEN BY THE PARTY OF COLUMBUS MEN.

Figures Testifying to the Magnitude of the Licking County Gas Territory. Gas Notes.

Referring to the trip of a large party of Columbus people to the Licking county gas field near Utica, news of which was wired the Advocate from Homer, the following is taken from a Columbus paper:

The mains of the Central Ohio Natural Gas and Fuel company and those of the Ohio Fuel Supply company now tap the greatest natural gas field in the world, and that Columbus is in no danger of any shortage of gas for years to come is the almost unanimous sentiment of the members of the party of city officials and councilmen who visited the new district in Knox and Licking counties Thursday. The gas field which the party saw is not one the possibilities of which are yet to be developed. Over 100 wells drilled and but one dry hole, with prospecting having been done over an extent of territory 16 miles one way and almost 20 miles the other and the limits of the field not yet defined, certainly tells a story of underlying reservoirs of gas practically inexhaustible.

The party saw wells whose combined flow would equal 350,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day and traveled for 45 miles through this territory, the possibilities of which, in the way of production of gas, have only been slightly tested as yet.

Speaking of the field, Mr. Pond, one of the directors of public service, said: "I saw the biggest gas field yesterday I ever saw in my life. Columbus is perfectly safe so far as a gas supply is concerned for years to come. I saw gas fields until I was tired and we rode for over 40 miles through them. There were 15 aches in the party and I tell you when we arrived at Mt. Vernon we were the dirtiest lot of fellows you ever saw. There is gas all over that country and it is in big quantities.

Director Bohl was much of the same opinion as Mr. Pond. "I made the trip and kept my eyes open," said Mr. Bohl. "I saw the biggest gas field in the world of that I am certain. The Ohio Fuel Supply company has 120,000 acres of land under lease and 92 producing wells. So far this company has drilled but one dry hole. The production of this company is over 150,000,000 cubic feet a day. The Central Ohio Natural Gas and Fuel company has 60,000 acres under lease and about 70 wells with a daily production of over 200,000,000 cubic feet. There is no danger of any shortage of gas supply."

The Fuel Supply company brought in a three million well last Friday, on the Frank Ward farm a mile and a half northwest of Brandon.

Mt. Vernon people are to hold a special election December 27th to vote on a proposition to issue bonds for $150,000 to establish a natural gas plant.

The Granville Natural Gas Light and Fuel company have started to drill a well on the farm best known as the Elias Daniels farm, six miles north of Granville. The drilling will be done by H. H. Church of Granville. The gas company has contracted with Mr. Church to drill two wells in that locality.

The Utica Herald says: Ordinary teamsters get $4 per day. The Pittsburgh contractor now working here pays $5 per day for teams. On Monday the teams engaged in hauling engines, gas pipe and other freight from Utica were counted and an estimate was made that their pay for the one day was $175. Many other days will show up as much as Monday. More business is done in Utica than in some cities of 10,000 population.

The Utica-Homer territory is still new but before it has been fairly developed a new field has been found west of Newark in the vicinity of Union Station. The outlook of which is very bright. Heisey & Company got a 5,000,000 foot well there a few days ago. And there are others.

DELCASSE

Discussed the Arbitration Treaty Between England and France—The Church and State.

Paris, Nov. 11.—In the chamber of deputies Foreign Minister Delcasse discussed the arbitration treaty between England and France, claiming both parties had received concessions. Turning to the Moorish question, M. Delcasse said the base of France's colonial empire was in the Mediterranean. Morocco under French influence meant Algeria strengthened. "We have silently pursued the realization of this aim," M. Delcasse said. "We now are united with Italy in firm friendship. We have made with Spain an arrangement based upon the integrity of Morocco and the suzerainty of the sultan. What we concede is valuable only to England; what England concedes is valuable only to us." Before the chamber rose Premier Combes announced that he brought, in the name of the president of the republic, a bill for the separation of church and state.

SUCCESS

Is Practically Assured to the Tobacco Growers' Association, Says President Hawkins.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 11.—In a signed statement issued last night, President W. B. Hawkins, of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, stated that the success of the venture was now practically assured, although the requisite number of acres of tobacco had not yet been signed to the association, in order to obtain the financial backing that had been promised. All this, however, he assures the members, will be rectified within the next 30 days, and a strong canvass will be made in the districts not yet in touch with the organization. The time limit, which was originally set for November 5, has been extended to give the association a chance. The statement follows:

"Our showing at the round-up of the signed contracts was much better than we had anticipated, and while we have not the requisite amount of tobacco I am satisfied that we will secure it in the next 10 days. We must not let up in the work. Our friends will be asked to take all the contracts they can in every county in the Barley district. That has not already been worked. Speakers will be sent to them to get them in line and then our success is assured. We must have all the tobacco that is yet out."

PREDICTED

That He Could Not Live After Wednesday and Died Within a Few Hours.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 11.—George T. Parker, aged 60, choirmaster of St. James Episcopal church and manager of the Parish League, an Episcopalian publication, died here a few hours after the time at which he last week predicted he would die. Parker suffered with Bright's disease, and although able to walk on the streets but a day before his death stated positively he could not live after Wednesday. He came here from Cleveland O. four months ago, but refused to give any information concerning his relatives, and his remains are held pending an effort to find them. He had ample means, and was not considered eccentric until his illness.

AMUSEMENTS

A SIPEN OF MONTE CARLO.

In Olga Drovsky, the dashing adventuress, who has captivated the hearts of many unfortunate youths who flutter around the lighted lamps of the world's greatest gambling resort, the author of "When the Bell Tolls" has created a strong character, who by sheer determination moves aside every obstacle that stands in her path to power and influence. The play is full of the strongly drawn characters and in the second act when six of the prominent parties have a concerted dramatic scene, the climax rises to one of the very strongest yet seen on the dramatic stage. "When the Bell Tolls" is an attraction out of the ordinary. Auditorium, Monday, Nov. 14.

WANG NEXT WEEK.

As Wang, Mr. Hopper is voted at his best. The jovial comedian will come to the Auditorium Tuesday Nov. 15, with a notable company of seventy associate players, including: Marguerite Clark as Mataya, Ada Deavus as Widow Frimousse, Baby D'Orselli as Marie, Frank Belcher as Colonel Fracasse, F. A. Bishop as Lieut. Boucher, Frank Casey as Pepet, and more than half a hundred other popular stage folks, in the minor parts and numerous chorus features. "Wang" will be produced here, we are told, with the same care as to detail as obtained at the Lyric theatre, the Messrs. Shubert's fashionable New York playhouse, where the revival held forth nearly half the regular season of 1904.

A MIDNIGHT MARRIAGE.

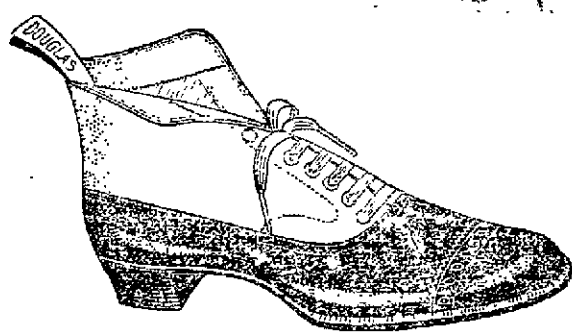

"A Midnight Marriage" is a play that will attract all classes, having a true heart interest as well as an unlimited amount of comedy all blended in such excellent proportions that the various emotions have ample opportunity of thorough development. The play is in four acts by Hal Reid, and the scenes are laid in an idyllic New York City, giving plenty of opportunity for splendid effects. Forrester & Mitchell have invested an immense amount of both time and money to furnish the amusement going public with a beautiful production and an exceptionally strong company and their efforts have been crowned with success since the initial performance of the play last season in New York City. The management of the Auditorium has secured this attraction which will be here soon.

ORGANIZED

Is the Men's Sabbath Evening League at the Second Presbyterian Church Here.

A "Men's Sabbath Evening League" was organized Thursday night in connection with the Second Presbyterian church. To enjoy the brotherhood of man, to reach out a helping hand and to provide a service which may prove specially helpful to the religious desire which exists greatly in all men is the reason of this movement, or as the constitution states the object is: "to promote the social, sympathetic and spiritual interests of its members, to help make the Sabbath evening service of greater value and to establish Christ's Kingdom in the hearts of men."

The League starts with a membership of twenty-five. Any man who seeks the welfare of the Second Presbyterian church may become a member by signing the constitution. Social meetings will be held monthly. The unity and quiet earnestness which characterizes this church is in the League and beyond good work.

The officers appointed for the ensuing three months are as follows: President, T. B. Fulton; vice president, Frank Miller; secretary, Charles Flory; treasurer, W. L. Pratt; financially secretary, for the year, T. M. Edmiston.

THE RAILWAYS

THE B. & O. ROAD TO BUILD A NUMBER OF STATIONS.

Roads Can't Agree on St. Louis Rate
Rockefeller Buys Santa Fe Stock.
Local Budget.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is beginning to pay more attention to stations along the line than it has in the past. In the last seven years, it has spent over one hundred million dollars in reducing grades, taking out curves and building freight terminals, and President Murray has decided the time has now come to improve the stations. An order has been issued for the building of 33 stations at different points along the line, where box cars and old buildings are now being used, and, probably, a great deal of work will be done during the winter. Some larger station propositions, ranging from $50,000 to $100,000, are under contemplation for spring work.

St. Louis Rate War.

Toledo, O., Nov. 11.—A rate war between Toledo and St. Louis is promised after the close of the St. Louis exposition because of the fact that the roads in the Central Passenger association have up to this time been unable to agree upon a proper differential for the Cleveland railroad. At a meeting of the Central Passenger association held in Chicago Wednesday, General Passenger Agent Ross of the Cleveland railroad served notice that unless the differential was agreed upon he would keep in force the present world's fair rates for an indefinite period, and that he would make the rate good from St. Louis to Toledo as well and used the rate as a basing rate on through business.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad has refused to agree to the differential.

Rockefeller Purchases Confirmed.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 11.—President E. R. Ripley of the Santa Fe system says that John D. Rockefeller and James Stillman, president of the National City bank of New York, had purchased $25,000,000 in Santa Fe stock.

Mr. Ripley said that he was not aware as to whether this indicated E. H. Herriman would be interested in the ownership of the Santa Fe or not, although the fact that these men had been acting concertedly in several large deals recently would seem to lead some slight color to the statement.

He believed, however, that Rockefeller and Stillman had made the investment in Santa Fe railway as an investment.

Seaboard Election Held.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 11.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Seaboard Airline railway held at the office of the company here the following board of directors was unanimously elected: N. S. Muddum, Jas. A. Blair, Thomas F. Ryan, John B. Dennis, T. Jefferson Coolidge, Jr., S. Davies Warfield, B. F. Yoakum, Geo. W. Watis, Jas. M. Barr, Charles A. Conant, James H. Dotey, C. Sidney Shepard, Nathaniel Thayer, Ernest Thalman, H. Clay Pierce, Norman P. Ream.

RATTLER
Fights a Jaguar—Novel Battle in a Zoo
Ends in the Death of Both the Fighters.
Reno, Nev., Nov. 11.—A furious jaguar broke from its cage in a zoo owned by Sam Davis at Carson City, and while prowling among the other cages tore the door from a cage containing a huge rattlesnake.
A fight between the beast and the reptile immediately ensued and as long as it lasted the contest was one of the most startling battles of its kind ever witnessed. The cries of the attendants at the zoo and the growls of the jaguar attracted many people to the scene and hundreds witnessed the struggle to the death.
When the door fell from the screen cage containing the rattlesnake the reptile immediately struck the enraged jaguar, but the skin of the animal resisted the fangs of the snake. With a growl the jaguar jumped at the snake, attempting to grab it in his jaws. The reptile recoiled and throwing its long body to its full length sank its fangs deep into the side of the beast. The jaguar caught the snake in its mouth and crushed its body, but not until its fangs had again been sunk into its shoulder. The jaguar died with the snake coiled around his leg and body.

WET WEATHER TALK.

(Reader Magazine.)
It ain't no use to grumble and complain.
It's just as cheap and easy to rejoice.
When God sorts out the weather and sends rain,
Why, rain's my choice.
In this season, dry and hot, it overtake the best of men—
Some little skiff of clouds'll shed the sun off now and then.
There ain't no sense, as I can see, in moutins sich as you and me,
A-fallin' Nature's wise intents, and loakin' horns with Providence.
It ain't no use to grumble and complain.
It's just as cheap and easy to rejoice.
When God sorts out the weather and sends rain,
Why, rain's my choice.

Divorce Sought by Aged Kentuckian— One of His Six Wives Has Died.

Owingsville, Ky., Nov. 11.—William T. Tolson, a wealthy citizen of Campbell county, has just filed suit for divorce from his sixth wife. He alleges incompatibility, born of differences over wives Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4. Wife No. 5 is dead, but it is reported that she was frequently the subject of quarrels between Mr. Tolson and his sixth wife.

Mr. Tolson is 51 years old, and was first married when 30. He soon obtained the divorce and married again and quickly filed suit for divorce from his second wife. He has been sued for divorce by only one of his wives. It is said he was preparing to bring suit against this woman, but she anticipated his action.

Tolson and his former wives are good friends and each time he takes a new partner all the former wives are invited to the ceremony and wedding feast. When wife No. 5 died all the other wives attended the funeral in a body.

ON THE STREET

She Hugged the Urbana Man, Who Later Missed His Wad.

Urbana, O., Nov. 11.—Etta Stewart, claiming Cynthia, Ky., as her home, is under arrest here on the charge of holding up H. J. Chamberlain and taking $125 out of his pocket.

Chamberlain alleges that Miss Stewart stopped him on the street and put her arms around him for several minutes. Chamberlain was surprised, but when released went on his way. Soon he discovered that he was minus $125 and the woman was later arrested on the charge of stealing the money. The police found on the woman a pair of diamond earrings, a gold watch set with diamonds and a diamond ring. The jewelry is worth $500. The police are holding her.

THE COURTS

TWO MORE DIVORCE SUITS ARE FILED IN PROBATE.

Answer and Cross Petition in Steel Works Suit—Realty Transfers.
Court House News.

Mantie McNeill has commenced suit in the Probate court for divorce from her husband, John Douglass Martin McNeill. The plaintiff says that she was married to the defendant in Buffalo, N. Y., in August of 1901, and that one daughter, Ruth Clayton McNeill, now in her third year, was born of said marriage. Wilful absence, gross neglect of duty and failure to provide are charged. Smythe and Smythe are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Another Divorce Suit.

Malinda Shufelt by her attorney, J. V. Hilliard, has filed a petition in the Probate court, asking for a divorce from her husband, Herbert Shufelt. The parties were married May 6, 1888, and one child, Norris, now 12 years of age, was born of the marriage. The defendant is charged with gross neglect of duty, failure to provide and extreme cruelty.

Steel Plant Suit.

In the case of Wm. E. Miller as receiver of the Newark Iron and Steel company, of this city vs. the Colonial Trust company of Pittsburg, Pa., the defendant has filed its answer and cross petition. The defendant says that there is due and remaining unpaid of the indebtedness of the plaintiff, secured by mortgage a deed of trust, the entire amount of the principal sums of the bonds that have been issued and are outstanding, the sum of $12,000, together with interest thereon at 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually from the 29th of September, 1901. The defendant asks that the mortgage be foreclosed, the premises ordered to be sold, and the proceeds ordered turned over to the defendant as trustee to be applied to the payment of the indebtedness secured by the mortgage, and that it may have all further relief in the premises to which it may be entitled. Patterson, Stissel & Acheson, and Henderson & Levesay, attorneys for the defendant.

A Telephone Suit.

The case of the Newark Telephone company vs. Mrs. Green was tried Wednesday before Squire T. L. King, who rendered his decision on Thursday afternoon.

The plaintiff company contended that it had put in a 'phone at her request, for which she had not paid.

Defendant pleaded that she had notified the company to take her instrument out, which said company did not do. Defendant testified that she had used the 'phone after serving notice on the company to remove it, and the court held that for this time she was bound by an implied contract to pay.

Altbona, Pa., Nov. 11.—Four tramps were cremated here last night in a fire destroying Haggerty's barn, a famous tramp resort. The charred remains of one known as Corn Husker was found. The others are still in the ruins. Haggerty's barn was located outside Altbona city. For years it had been the lodging place for tramps. One tramp sacrificed his life for a horse. No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

IN THE STREET CAR.

Just a Few Remarks For Women In General.

"Trust a woman to show her little idiosyncrasies in a street car," observed the critical man. "I have compiled just a few remarks, and if it's the same to you I wish you would put them in print so that women may profit thereby."

Here they are! Perhaps some enterprising woman will feel moved to retaliate with a few don'ts for men passengers. Heaven knows they need them!

However—

Don't read a man's paper over his shoulder. If you are trying to scrape an acquaintance it is a good way; otherwise it is unpardonable. Newspapers are cheap; some of them only cost a cent. Save your eyes and the man's temper. Besides, he may not always wait for you to turn over the page.

Don't fish for coppers—and drop them all over the car. If you want to treat your friend treat her to something worth while, and don't struggle for her gratitude over a five cent fare.

Advertisements are sometimes worth reading, but never if they make you squint.

In going around a curve it is better to embrace a strap than a man.

Lower your voice.

Two inches of shoe is enough to show.

The woman who stands her umbrella in a slanting position should pay damages to those that break their necks over it.

There are two ways of sitting, and the proper thing to do when you are offered one-third of a seat is to sit one-third.

The recess, having five small paneled windows and an upholstered window seat, is particularly effective. The rug is blue and white, and so is the tiled fireplace. R. DE LA BAUME.

The New Woman

The Old Woman Vanishes: the New Arrives

I HAVE been to the St. Louis exposition. There I saw signs that woman is entering more and more into the conduct of affairs. I attended the Buffalo exposition, too, and I find women have more to do in a business capacity at St. Louis than they had at Buffalo. At the best of the numerous shows on the Pike women were employed as ticket sellers in most cases. The evil little snide shows, those where a dime admission was charged and no proper return made for the money, were, naturally, conducted by men. In the Fish, Game and Forestry building an eloquent tongued young lady had charge of the Oklahoma exhibit. Bless us, how she could talk! She knew her business to the last dot and exploited the glories of her territory in a way that a mining promoter would have envied. In her corner were also exhibits from a coffee, chocolate and india rubber plantation in Mexico, and these, too, were in charge of the wide awake girl. She was well educated and thoroughly refined and ladylike in her manner and full of enthusiasm over her subject as she told us how the cacao tree grows and how much profit there is in cultivating it. I, who had seen cacao, or chocolate, groves in the Philippines, found that she knew what she was talking about and told the truth. Here is a new occupation for woman—that of promoter. If responsible companies with really good mining or agricultural properties wish to raise money to develop these the services of a woman like the Oklahoma young lady exploit-er and lecturer would be invaluable to them. Of women lecturers, including Mrs. Mountford, with her wonderful talks on Jerusalem, there were several. Then, too, there was a woman juror in every department in that exposition. This came about because the lady board of managers, which had the appointing of one juror in each department, loyally selected a woman in every case.

The other evening a fat woman walked ahead of me—no, I'll take it back; she did not walk—she wobbled ahead of me. The reason of the wobbling was that she wore shoes three sizes too small for her, with peglike heels three inches high. Upon the peg heels her vast body swayed from side to side, painfully and awkwardly, with the hobbling gait of a crippled animal. She was a crippled animal. Here is a psychological query that I have never been able to answer: Why do very fat women wear those awful high peg heels that make them walk like a hobbled ox?

In Eleanor Kirk's Idea is an editorial, beginning, "Put your mind on it." The end of the editorial is "Put your mind on it." Just so. Whatever worthy heart's desire is yours put your mind on it and keep it there day after day, month after month, year after year, if necessary, and the heart's desire will be achieved if you use the means that will come your way to attain it.

In the department of machinery at the St. Louis fair the woman juror was Miss Edith J. Griswold, the patent expert and attorney of New York city. In the electricity department the woman juror was Miss Hope Loughborough of Cleveland.

Miss Caroline Wetherell is winning an enviable reputation as a writer on natural history topics, especially for young people. Miss Wetherell walks by the seashore and gathers seaweed and shells. She goes into the fields and woods and watches the butterflies, birds, squirrels and others of nature's live things. Thus she learns many a lesson not down in the books. These living lessons are given in all their freshness to her readers. Next to the accurate scientific knowledge imparted, the best of the young lady's work is the teaching, running like a thread through her writing, of kindness and gentleness to all dumb life.

I have seen recently an item with the heading "Women Play Japan and Russia." It was an account of a woman's club meeting, in which women abused both Japan and Russia "up hill and down dale" for fighting. That's it! Just so! Will women ever know enough to cease shooting off violent and intemperate opinions, particularly concerning topics whereof they have little or no real knowledge? Somehow it seems as though women must always be "flaying" somebody or something, and the less they know the more effectively the hapless object of their ignorant wrath is "skinned."

Mrs. Jeannette Robinson Murphy, the student of negro music and character, has found that negro women in the south as a rule do not know their own birthdays and therefore do not grow old so rapidly as white women. It is certain that negroes do not age as soon as white people do.

This world has no use for a woman "quitter" any more than for one of the other sex.

Some persons are so stupidly and self-satisfied "good" that they exasperate you. Their very "goodness" is a bar to their ever learning anything.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

SOME SEASONABLE HATS.

Late Autumn Creations in All the Newest Tints.

It would be very difficult for any one to make a sweeping statement saying that this or that shape is the style in hats, for there are almost as many different shapes as there are hats.

Ostrich tips and long plumes are among the most fashionable and desirable of all trimmings, and the black ones have the very excellent quality of toning down the showy orange and onion yellows in vogue. It seems that the primary colors are preferred to tints this season, and the newest greens, yellows and reds are in full evidence, while the violet ray is seen everywhere.

There are black velvet hats, shirred and handsome in themselves, made hideous by emerald green coq plumes hanging down the back and sides. There are other black creations with astounding paradise sweeps that put the military helmets to shame for size. A favorite way of putting the black plumes on hats is to have several of them, all curled in different ways, but all seeming to start from under one big black quill.

The newest shapes in white, soft and silky felt, as a rule, are scantily trimmed, but what is put on is exceptionally fine. A metallic band of gold or silver wrought with some dark colored silk in conventional pattern is put around the crown like the band on a man's hat, and the brim is lifted at the left side with a draped piece of velvet to match the color in the hat and a little more of the band twisted in. This makes a simple hat, yet a dressy one, according to the rest of the costume, and, too, according to the way it is tilted on the head.

Hats made of braided felt and velvet or chenille are much in evidence, and many very pleasing combinations are the results of this admixture of materials. Brown and fawn, brown and cream and other shades of brown or other colors are seen braided in rather loose braids and then sewed to make the hat. Such hats are scantily trimmed, and most often with entirely self-trimming or else a drapery of silk or rough wool bordered with a row of the braid. These are generally regarded as runabout hats, but many wear them to match costumes. Brown in all shades is so very fashionable that we find many hats wrought out all in browns. One really artistic toque shaped hat was of brown velvet with a large flat crown. The brim was of shirred velvet of another shade and stood up all around. Twined over and around the brim was a vine of velvet flowers, buds and foliage all in brown. One is surprised at the number of shades there are in this favorite color this season. They begin in cream and end in seal. The favorites, however, seem to be a rich, warm, woody brown and the brown which is now called onion from some fancied resemblance to the skin of that vegetable.

A very pretty style of hat for a young woman is shown in drab felt, with a ruffling of velvet to match along the middle of the brim. The crown is of the sugar loaf variety, with figurings wrought upon it by Persian braid. Under the brim at the left side is a pretty drapery of the velvet, with lace falls at the back. Another curiously devised hat is made of dark brown velvet, with rows of gilt braid around the crown. The brim is higher in the back than in front and joins in front with an arrangement of the braid. A scroll design of the braid is put along the middle of the brim and a row of the braid at the upper and lower edges. A small flat drapery is set on either side of the joining at the front.

The fur nap beavers are among the best of all the hats for women. They are in all the newest shapes, which include the large cavalier, directorio and Louis XVI. forms. These make extremely picturesque hats, especially with the enormous mass of plumage. Champagne color is seen in these soft fur nap beavers, and when these are given a drapery of velvet and a long and sweeping plume of the paradise bird it would seem that life could offer little better. Three times are sometimes set on a hat, the old Prince of Wales style, and it seems that there is no style that was ever in vogue for hats that has not some little reminiscent feature now. Even the dainty little poke bonnets with the big bow to tie under the chin are shown.

The fur nap beavers are offered in black, navy, brown, castor, slate, red and green, and also with crowns of one color and brims of another. In white there are camel's hair, fur, nap and smooth finished beaver and silk finished beavers, so the variety is almost limitless.

BIG WAGE

IS ASKED BY THIS WOMAN FOR HOUSEWORK.

Society Woman Wants $27,000 For Four Weeks' Service With Her Mother-in-Law.

Nashua, N. H., Nov. 11.—Abbie Ann Day Chandler is suing her mother-in-law, Caroline A. Chandler, in the Hillsboro county court for $4000, as compensation for 27 weeks' work as a menial in Mrs. Chandler's home, during which time she had to wash, sweep, build fires, make beds and comb the defendant's hair, as well as to dress and undress her.

The high valuation is placed, she says, because her labor was work of love.

At the time of her marriage with Mrs. Chandler's son, Abbie Chandler had a fortune estimated at $100,000, owned a fine estate at Wilton, and was prominent socially in southern New Hampshire. Her husband entered business in Vermont with varying success. His father was the head of the Nashua street railway company.

Two years ago the young couple returned to town to live with the wife's brother, Charles H. Day, who then owned and occupied the residence which is now the home of Charles H. Hamblett, United States district attorney.

The elder Mr. Chandler had died soon after the marriage of the young people, and Mrs. Chandler had moved to Townsend. She came back and took up her home in a house in the neighborhood following the return of the young people to this city.

Her health failing, she refused to allow anyone near her except her daughter-in-law, who moved to that house with her husband.

A divorce suit and counter suit resulted in a legal separation of Abbie and her husband, and of Abbie's brother and his wife.

This was followed with civil process by Abbie Chandler for the recovery of diamonds and other jewels, in which she was successful. She then moved to Worcester.

Chandler and the former Mrs. Day married again and set up housekeeping with the elder Mrs. Chandler.

Testimony has begun in the case and the court room has been crowded with spectators. Mrs. Chandler testified graphically her experience with the washtub.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Thompson, of Lillydale, N. Y., Grand Worthy Wise Templar, and Member of W. C. T. U., tells how she recovered from a serious illness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am one of the many of your grateful friends who have been cured through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and who can to-day thank you for the fine health I enjoy. When I was thirty-five years old, I suffered severe backache and frequent bearing-down pains; in fact, I had womb trouble. I was very anxious to get well, and reading of the cures your Compound had made, I decided to try it. I took only six bottles, but it built me up and cured me entirely of all my troubles.

"My family and relatives were naturally as gratified as I was. My niece had heart trouble and nervous prostration, and was considered incurable. She took your Vegetable Compound and it cured her in a short time, and she became well and strong, and her home to her great joy and her husband's delight was blessed with a baby. I know of a number of others who have been cured of different kinds of female trouble, and am satisfied that your Compound is the best medicine for sick women."

—Mrs. ELIZABETH H. THOMPSON, Box 105, Lillydale, N. Y.

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are continually writing letters of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham, until she has hundreds of thousands of letters from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Here is another letter which proves conclusively that there is no other medicine to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with poor health for over seven years, not sick enough to stay in bed, and not well enough to enjoy life and attend to my daily duties properly. I was growing thin, my complexion was sallow, and I was easily upset and irritable.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I procured a bottle. A great change for the better took place within a week, and I decided to keep up the treatment. Within two months I was like a changed woman, my health good, my step light, my eyes bright, my complexion vastly improved, and I felt once more like a young girl. I wonder now how I ever endured the misery. I would not spend another year like it for a fortune.

"I appreciate my good health, and give all the praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

—Mrs. M. TILIA, 407 Habersham St., Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of such letters.

DEAD MAN

Held the Reins While Horses Traveled for Miles Through State of Nevada.

Reno, Nev., Nov. 11.—Six horses, pulling two wagons heavily loaded with freight, walked through the streets of Cherry Creek, a small mining camp in White Pine county, Nevada, recently, and, as they were accustomed to do, stopped before the only livery stable in the camp.

The driver, Charles Wagner, who sitting on the seat as usual, but when he did not get down and did not yell out, as was his custom, the stablemen climbed upon the wagon. They were horrified to find that he was dead. Life had been extinct for several hours; the aged teamster having died alone on the desert while he was traveling along the road he had so often gone before.

Wagner was 60 years old and had been engaged in teaming in Nevada since 1858. He hailed from the Virginia City when the Comstock was booming and since that time has been freighting into Toiyabe, Rye and other small mining camps. He was a well educated man and came from a good family in Pennsylvania. A few years ago he was disappointed in a love affair and came to the west, where he spent his life alone on the plains.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 11.—"Let me go home; I am afraid papa will be worried if I stay out all night." This plea from a gray-headed prisoner astonished Warden Messier at the county jail. The prisoner, J. K. Brown of Morganville, had been locked up to sleep off the effects of whiskey.

"Your papa! What do you mean?" said Messier.

"Papa is 91," said the prisoner. "I am only 62. Let me go home to keep him from being worried." Messier was unable to grant the request. He kept Brown all night and when he was set free in the morning he hurried away, saying he must relieve his papa's anxiety.

LAST RITES

Are Paid to Horses—Public Funeral Given to Thoroughbreds Buried to Death.

Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 11.—With impressive ceremonies the three thoroughbred race horses burned to death here were buried in the town cemetery. James Brown, owner of the horses, was not willing to send the bodies of his favorites to the city dump and arranged to have them buried in an impressive style.

Three separate graves were dug in Mr. Brown's lot and wagons drawn with black veils used to convey the dead animals from the stables to the cemetery. In the funeral cortege were Mr. Brown, members of his family and all the employees of his stables.

Hundreds of persons fell in line and when the procession reached the grave the largest crowd ever attending a burial in Norfolk had assembled.

PASTOR

SURPRISED AT HOME BY CHURCH MEMBERS.

Rev. J. B. Bovey, who returns for Fifth Year to Newark Cordially Received by Friends.

Rev. J. B. Bovey, who has just been returned to the pastorate of the United Brethren church of this city, for the fifth consecutive year, and his estimable wife, were the recipients of an agreeable surprise on Thursday night.

Each year it has been the custom of the members of the church to welcome their pastor back by holding a reception in the parlors of the church. This time, however, the members of the church called in a body at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bovey, corner of East Main and Cedar streets, and completely filled the rooms of the spacious house. All brought with them presents for the popular pastor and his wife, and the surprise of Mr. and Mrs. Bovey was a most agreeable one.

Mr. A. B. Schotterback, on behalf of the members of the congregation, made the address of welcome to which the pastor feelingly responded. Mr. L. A. Gault, treasurer of the church board, also made an address in which he spoke of the work that had been accomplished during the past four years, chief of which was the largely increased membership and the freeing of the church from its indebtedness. The program, which was a very interesting one, was interspersed with music.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 11—August Zoekler, aged 29 a butcher, jumped into the Ohio river and was drowned. The body was later recovered. Zoekler had carefully prepared for the act. The cause assigned for the act is that he had lost quite heavily by betting on the election.

WHERE IS MRS. DAVIS?

Circumstances of the Case Cause a Sensation.

Bryon Chambers Who Was Friendly With Mrs. Davis Returned Home Saturday Night But Says He Knows Nothing of Her Whereabouts.

Where is Lillian Davis, wife of Henry Davis, a layer of cement walks whose home is at 113 Vail street in "Oklahoma"?

This question remains unanswered, and the circumstances of her disappearance have caused a sensation in the section of the community in which the parties reside, who are interested.

Henry Davis is 26 years old, and is a son of Eli Davis, a carpenter whose residence is at the rear of that of his son's, their porches nearly touching each other.

About four years ago Davis married Lillian Kaiser, daughter of Charles Kaiser, who is about 24 years of age. They have one child about two years old.

Davis and his wife lived happily together and never a shadow passed between them. He never dreamed that his wife ever thought of another man, and his trust in her was implicit. Has she betrayed this confidence? Has an infatuation led her to shame the man whom she promised to cherish and honor?

Last April at 126 Vail, within a stone's throw of the Davys residence, Bryon Chambers, an honored and respected gentleman, started a grocery, his son, Lee Chambers, aged 21, working for him.

Chambers is a young man of pleasant address and engaging manners, and an immediate friendship sprang up between him and the wife of Henry Davis. As the weeks went by this attachment became so noticeable that the young man's father frequently called him to task.

Neighbors say that Mrs. Davis and young Chambers were seen so frequently together that current gossip connected their names in an unpleasant manner.

Davis was the last person on earth to suspect his wife, and not until last Saturday did the blow fall upon him with crushing force.

About 5 o'clock he went home and as usual found his supper prepared by his wife. After partaking of the meal Davis gave his wife the greater portion of his week's earnings and left to look after some work that he was expecting, making an engagement with his wife to go to town to get the baby a pair of shoes, upon his return.

About 6:30 he came back home and was surprised to find that his wife was not there. The feeling of surprise became one of alarm when inquiry at every house on the street revealed the fact that no one had seen the woman during the evening.

Telephone messages to several relatives brought the same response, and the terrible suspicion that he had been deserted by his wife, was confirmed by reports that she had been in conversation several times during the afternoon with Lee Chambers, who was not seen at the store during the evening.

The hours lengthened into days, nearly a week has passed and yet there is no news as to where Mrs. Davis has gone, every effort of the heart-broken husband to locate her having met with failure.

Bryon Chambers, father of young Lee Chambers, said Friday morning that his son came home Saturday night, and has been there ever since. The young man claims he does not know where Mrs. Davis is at the present time. The senior Chambers said that he advised his son to remain at his home, 455 Clarendon street, in view of the rumors in circulation as to his connection with Mrs. Davis' disappearance.
